The Seat

You are in the middle chair. The table runs away from you toward the dealer's chip tray, the leather armrest curves around your stomach, and your chips sit on the rail in front of you. Cards shrink with distance, like real ones.

WHAT MAKES IT FEEL LIKE A SEAT

- A perspective tilt on every hand. Far seats are angled toward the dealer, as cards really lie on a table
- Seats in casino order: first base (Maya) on your right, third base (Priya) on your left
- Jordan's bust is cleared the way a dealer does it: cards and chips gone, the spot left empty
- Dealer's tray, shoe, discard holder and limit sign at the far edge, under warm casino lights
